Copper, Steel Makers Plan Price Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders in the steel and copper industries plan price increases as the government reports a second straight monthly drop in the nation's industrial output.

As the price hikes were being announced Wednesday, Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board urged Congress to enact a tax hike to stem inflation. President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge appears all but dead for this session of Congress.

Martin said disruptive forces already are at work on the economy.

Adding to the economy's woes were continued scattered strikes in the auto industry.

Must Use Correct Address

Postmaster Maurice Hogan today urged Sedalians to be sure they use the correct address on their letters and packages going to servicemen overseas to avoid serious delays in delivery.

Hogan reported millions of letters and packages going overseas have been delayed because they were not properly addressed. He said one of the biggest problems has been the failure of persons to include the very important five digit APO or FPO number in the military address. Mail not containing this number is incorrectly addressed.

Last year more than nine million pieces of mail were delayed in delivery. Of this number, 3½ million pieces failed to include the complete five digit APO or FPO number in the address. This improperly addressed mail had to be sent to the military locator directory where time-consuming searches were made to determine the proper addresses.

"As Christmas mail volume going overseas is expected to increase up to 30 per cent or over four million pounds above last year, every precaution should be taken by friends and relatives of servicemen to address their letters and packages properly to assure rapid delivery to its destination," Hogan said.

There are four essential elements to an overseas military address. They are: The serviceman's identity-grade, full name, and service number. His military unit-complete. Gateway post office—New York, San Francisco, or Seattle. APO or FPO—a five digit number.

When any of these elements is missing the letter or package will be delayed in delivery. To assure delivery packages should now be sent by air mail, except those weighing five pounds or under. These will continue to receive air service on space available basis until Dec. 1.

George E. Wright, 411 East 11th Street, an employee at Bing's Supermarket, No. 2, gives his views on the Rival Manufacturing Co. bonds to be voted on Nov. 21:

"To continue to grow, Sedalia needs to attract new families. One hundred and fifty new jobs will bring in additional people. We can keep Sedalia growing and provide jobs for our own people without having to pay taxes to do so.

"Every progressive Sedalia family should vote in favor of the bond issue Nov. 21 to help Rival Manufacturing Co. expand."

On Bonin Islands

Japanese Leader Has Promise From the US

NEW YORK (AP) — Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, bearing a promise from Washington that the United States would return the Bonin Islands, arrived in New York today to meet with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

There was no formal welcoming ceremony at LaGuardia Airport. His departure from Washington after two-day policy talks with President Johnson, also was without fanfare.

Sato received a promise the United States will return the Bonin Islands, including the World War II battleground of Iwo Jima, to Japan within a year.

But the 66-year-old Japanese leader was unable to win a timetable promise from President Johnson for a similar return of strategic Okinawa to Japanese control. The key American defense base is only 350 miles from the Chinese mainland.

Sato flies to New York today for meetings with U.N. Secretary General U Thant after two days of hard bargaining sessions with Johnson over Okinawa, a politically explosive issue in Japan.

Expectations have been building in Japan for months that the United States would yield control of Okinawa while maintaining American use of military bases there for the security of Japan and the non-Communist countries of east Asia.

Instead, Johnson and Sato worked out an agreement to establish an advisory committee to the U.S. military high commissioner of the Ryukyu Islands. The committee composed of high-level American, Japanese and Okinawan officials will meet with Lt. Gen. Ferdinand Unger, the high commissioner.

Their job will be to lessen the economic and social differences between the 950,000 Okinawans and the 100 million Japanese. A communique issued by the President and prime minister following their two-day meeting said the United States would retain military facilities in the Bonin Islands.

A Polaris nuclear submarine base reportedly is maintained at Chichi Jima, largest of the Bonins.

Japan also agreed to gradually take over responsibility for defense of the Bonins, some 750 miles south-southeast of Tokyo.

No Pickup...

There will be no garbage pickup in Sedalia Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, according to Vernon Ditton, superintendent of the Street and Alley Department.

Ditton said he has arranged for Thursday's routes to be covered Friday, the day following Thanksgiving.

California Nursing Home

Plans for local residents to build a 60-bed extended care facility to be known as "Windsor Estates of California" have been completed for a planned beginning of construction early in 1968. The new facility will be built on a site near Proctor Park and completion is expected in the late summer. A $600,000 development, the facility will have a local board of directors and will be built in conjunction with Professional Nursing Homes of America, Inc., Kansas City. Ira J. Jackson, M.D., chairman of the board of PNHA, said

Windsor Estates will be fully Medicare approved and will care for persons of all ages who do not require extensive hospital care, yet are not able to return to normal living at home. He added that the California facility will maintain an "open staff" policy where a patient may be admitted by his personal physician and remain under his care. Windsor Estates of California will be part of a network of extended care facilities across the nation with an established and standardized operational procedure.

Cautious Optimism Is Expressed By General

Sees No Earlier End To Vietnam Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland gave the Senate Armed Services Committee today what was termed "an optimistic-cautiously optimistic"—report on the war in Vietnam.

"But he does not see any early termination of the war," Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the committee chairman, told newsmen.

Westmoreland spent more than an hour in closed session with the committee, and left immediately afterward for the White House, where he met at noon with President Johnson.

Informed sources predicted that meeting would bring agreement on earlier deployment of additional troops already authorized for Vietnam. These sources said Westmoreland was not asking for a bigger commitment of U.S. troops.

Russell said that while the whole tenor of Westmoreland's statement to the committee was cautiously optimistic, he never failed to make a statement about a gain without mentioning some of the difficulties encountered.

Among the difficulties cited, Russell reported, were the sanctuary the Communist forces have in Cambodia and Laos, abuse of the demilitarized zone, and "the tremendous supplies of mortars, artillery and rockets from some source."

Russell said he presumed the weapons were being supplied by the Soviet Union.

On the other hand, Russell said Westmoreland reported that while the enemy force's equipment is consistently good, their morale is deteriorating and some of their best troop units have been practically decimated.

Westmoreland flew in from Vietnam Wednesday for his conferences with the President and other officials. The general, his wife and their 11-year-old daughter, Margaret, spent the night at the White House as guests of the President and Mrs. Johnson.

Sewage Plant In Operation

Some Gear Still Not Installed

The South Sedalia Sewage Treatment plant went into a daytime schedule of operation Wednesday afternoon, according to City Engineer Robert Cunningham.

Cunningham said the plant is treating sewage only during the day-time hours because some automatic equipment is still awaited. An operator is currently required to handle equipment at the plant.

Raw sewage is presently going through the primary clarifier at the plant, then through the rock trickling filter and through the final clarifier.

From there it goes into the new lagoon, which adds the final touches of the processing operation to the sewage remaining. After that, the water passes into the Breakfast Branch.

Cunningham stressed that no raw sewage is being passed from the lagoon into Breakfast Branch, which flows into Flat Creek some distance east of the sewage plant.

Water passing into the branch, Cunningham said, meets all requirements set by the Missouri Water Pollution Board.

The city engineer added that the plant will be placed on a 24-hour basis as soon as the needed equipment arrives. He said this would be sometime next month.

He said there has been a 92 per cent reduction in the oxygen demanded to stabilize all organic material in the effluent passing through the plant and into Breakfast Branch. This compares to 240 parts of oxygen per million parts of effluent before the plant went back into operation.

What this means, he said, is that no sewage is now being passed into public water ways.

Before the plant went back into operation, persons living in the Flat Creek and Breakfast Branch area lodged complaints that a health hazard was being created by the city because only partially-treated sewage was being passed to both streams.

Reach 70 Per Cent

Contributions Lag...

Although the Sedalia-Pettis County United Fund has reached 70 per cent of its goal, UF President Jim Edwards indicated today that some phases of the program are lagging.

Edwards pointed out that some businesses and some towns in the county have shown a marked increase over last year, but this has not been so in some small businesses and individual contributions.

In an appeal to these portions of the program that are lagging, Edwards said:

"The total in to date is $68,647.25. "Seventy per cent is a long way from 100 per cent. The donations and pledges from industry and larger business firms have held up very well, and in most instances have shown a substantial gain.

"Our problem is in two areas. Small business and individual contributions, and the lack of follow-through by some workers to properly distribute and pick up their workers packets.

"We do not want to fail to make our goal in behalf of the 14 different organizations United Fund supports. Lets make Sedalia Pettis County proud, and meet this challenge. If you have not been contacted to give, why not mail your personal check to United Fund, 210 East 4th, Sedalia. Do not let your United Fund down."

Boost To Flat Creek, Kaysinger

The Kaysinger Bluff reservoir project received a $1.2 million boost above the original budget requested from Congress to make it one of the largest parts of the Public Works Appropriations Bill for Missouri flood control projects.

Final approval was also given a $10,000 allocation requested in the President's budget for the Flat Creek area south of Sedalia. Congress made no increases or cuts in the amount requested in the budget.

The announcements came Thursday from Senators Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long. Both Senators said, "The appropriation was as much as could be expected" in view of budget demands of the Vietnam conflict.

The senators pointed out that the largest increase in Missouri was for Kaysinger Bluff. Congress approved an allocation of $10 million for the massive work project.

In all, the senators reported, the appropriations measure would provide $47,350,000 for Missouri flood control work, $2,730,000 above what had been requested in the budget recommendations presented by President Johnson.

Area Counties Are Recognized

Seventy-eight Missouri counties were given special recognition during the 53rd annual meeting of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation held in Jefferson City. These counties were recognized for reaching their membership quota. Thirty-three of the 78 counties exceeded their quota by 25 members or more and became members of the Quota Plus Club and received a Quota Plus plaque.

Among 33 counties listed over their quota are: Morgan, 30; Cooper, 27; Pettis, 25.

Poverty Measure Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — An antipoverty bill cut by $460 million has cleared the House and both the budget-cutters and administration supporters claim a victory.

Republicans succeeded in cutting the money total well below President Johnson's request but the pared-down version—with all its controversial programs intact—then sailed through 283 to 129, the biggest margin in its three-year history.

As it passed the House Wednesday night after a long, frequently raucous session, the bill would extend the Office of Economic Opportunity's programs for one year at an authorized spending level of $1.6 billion.

That's the amount the OEO had last year. Johnson had asked for $2.06 billion to expand the antipoverty program this year.

The Senate has already authorized $2.25 billion and a compromise agreement will now have to be worked out.

After three frustrating days in which they were defeated on every major attempt to cut funds and revise the program, the Republicans scored on their final thrust just before passage.

Their motion to cut back to $1.6 billion was approved 221 to 190, with 148 Republicans and 73 Democrats, mostly from the South, supporting it. Opposing the slash were 162 Democrats and 28 Republicans.

On final passage, 186 Democrats and 97 Republicans voted for the bill and 50 Democrats and 79 Republicans against it. The entire top leadership of the Republican party either voted or was paired against the bill.

The bill's supporters shrugged off the cut in funds as a small price to pay for keeping alive a program that at one time appeared doomed.

The coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats that rewrote major administration education and crime control bills earlier in the year had made a complete revision of the antipoverty program its main goal.

When the summer's riots soured many former supporters of the program in the House leadership laid the bill aside and even considered dropping it for this year to keep it from being chewed up.

Designate Cities As Models

WASHINGTON (AP) — The office of Sen. Daniel X. Inouye, D-Hawaii, announced today a list of cities which, he was informed, will share in the new model cities program for improving blighted neighborhoods.

The list included: Huntsville, Ala.; Texarkana, Ark.; Fresno and Oakland, Calif.; Denver and Trinidad, Colo.; Bridgeport, Hartford and New Haven, Conn.; Washington, D.C.; Dade County, Fla.; Tampa, Fla.; Atlanta, Ga.; Gainesville, Ga.; Honolulu, Hawaii; Chicago; St. Louis; Gary, Ind.; Des Moines, Iowa; Pikeville, Ky.

Baltimore, Boston, Cambridge, Lowell, and Springfield, Mass.; Detroit, and Highland Park, Mich.; Duluth and Minneapolis, Minn.; Kansas City, Mo.; Manchester, N.H.

Hoboken, Newark and Trenton, N.J.; Albuquerque, N.M.; Buffalo, Central and East Harlem, South Bronx, Central Brooklyn, Poughkeepsie and Rochester, N.Y.

Charlotte, N.C.; Columbus, Dayton and Toledo, Ohio; Tulsa, Okla.; Portland, Ore.; Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Reading-Burke County, and Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

San Juan, Puerto Rico; Providence, R.I.; Nashville, Davidson County and Smithville-DeKalb County, Tenn.; Eagle Pass, San Antonio, Texarkana, and Waco, Texas; Winoski, Vt.; Norfolk, Va.; Seattle, Wash.

The chosen cities will share in the $312 million approved by Congress for initial planning costs.

The program will concentrate on a single blighted neighborhood of each city.

Final selections were pared from an original list of 293 cities that applied.

Claims 3 Men Fired At Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP) — A new critic of the Warren report claims that three gunmen in three different locations fired a total of four shots in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Josiah Thompson, a philosophy professor turned investigator, disputes the Warren Commission finding that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone killer of the President.

Writing in the Dec. 2 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Thompson says he based his conclusion on detailed analyses of the pictures of the assassination and testimony of certain witnesses.

In a statement, William A. Emerson Jr., the magazine's editor, said, "With painstaking care and formidable logic Thompson demolishes the Warren report by building a case for three assassins."

In an editorial accompanying the Thompson article, the Post said: "We declare once again that we believe the Kennedy mystery has not been solved, that the case is not closed."

Thompson, 32, who teaches at Haverford College, is a graduate of Yale University and Navy veteran. The article was extracted from his book "Six Seconds in Dallas" to be published Nov. 27 by Bernard Geis Associates.

Thompson said his "new evidence does not prove that the assassination was a conspiracy. Nor does it prove Oswald's innocence. It shows that the question of Oswald's guilt must remain—four years after the event—still unanswered."

In his "reconstruction," Thompson argues Kennedy was hit by the first and third shots fired at the presidential motorcade. He believes they probably came from the Texas School Book Depository but were not necessarily fired by Oswald.

Thompson claims the second shot came from a building to the rear of the motorcade—most probably the Dallas County Records building—and was the bullet that wounded Gov. John Connally.

Commenting on the Thompson thesis Wednesday, Gov. Connally disputed the fourth shot theory. "I still contend there were three shots fired. I don't believe there was more than one assassin," he said.

Almost immediately after the third shot hit Kennedy in the head, Thompson claims a fourth shot also struck the President's head. He believes this shot was fired from behind a fence to the right and in front of the motorcade.

In part, Thompson based his conclusions on a study of an amateur movie filmed during the assassination by Abraham Zapruder, a spectator. The film was also central to the Warren Commission findings.

Thompson draws his theory of three assassins from interpretation of the facts of timing of the frames of the Zapruder film, but he does not speculate on who the gunmen were.

Politeness Masks Real Emotions

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The two white-haired Southerners, both lawyers and seasoned public men, addressed each other at the Capitol Hill hearing in the politest of tones and with expressions of personal regard. But the things they said!

Rep. Wright Patman, 74, to Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler—"It is very seldom that anyone in the Treasury Department, let alone the secretary himself, shows enough interest in the massive problem of tax-dodging via foundations to travel all the way to the Hill."

Fowler, 59, to Patman—"That comment could only come from one most uninformed."

Patman—"All I can say is I hope the Treasury is not dead, but I have not detected any promising signs of life."

Fowler, after remarking Congress has had Treasury recommendations for revising foundation laws for two years—"One could say that Congress is dead. It wouldn't advance the dialogue."

The Small Business subcommittee Patman heads, and before which Fowler appeared, is investigating Americans Building Constitutionally (ABC) of Barrington, Ill., which provides information on setting up foundations intended to be tax-free.

But the Patman-Fowler questions and answers Wednesday hit the main subject only occasionally, and bounced off in various directions.

Patman, who contends ABC is a factory teaching high-income people how to dodge taxes, delivered his East Texas-flavored sermonettes in a flat schoolmaster voice. Fowler kept his Virginia accents disciplined, but not quite so emotionless.

Patman: "The United States Treasury has distinguished itself by indifference, indolence and bungling."

"We would not now be plagued by the ABC if the Treasury had been on its toes instead of its back."

"The Treasury has traditionally treated the foundation tycoons with great sympathy and understanding."

Fowler: "Your remarks... again are a reflection of complete ignorance of what is going on."

"Looking at the role these foundations play, it seems to us the proper course is prompt and effective action to correct abuses rather than to try to destroy them as institutions."

"We could use a great deal more manpower and achieve a higher state of perfection. We have appealed to Congress for the funds."

As he left, the secretary thanked the chairman for finishing his questioning at a single session and promised, "The commissioner of Internal Revenue will be here to entertain you tomorrow."

Criticize Abel For Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP) — I. W. Abel, craggy-faced president of the United Steel Workers Union, is under considerable fire in trying to steer his big union past the twin shoals of a major strike or mass layoffs next year.

The center of the controversy is a no-strike plan being discussed with the steel industry at a time when labor militancy and strikes across the nation are at a 15-year high.

"There is a big element of steel union leadership that believes it is nonsensical to give up the right to strike," said one labor source outside Abel's union.

Steel Workers Union aides say Abel is angry at being accused of cozying up to the steel industry—the main issue on which Abel ousted David J. McDonald from the union presidency in a 1965 election.

Abel, who guided the Steel Workers to major contract gains without a strike later the same year, is reportedly undergoing his first major internal union struggle over the no-strike discussions.

The plan, which would submit major contract issues to voluntary but binding arbitration in the event of a bargaining deadlock, is far from approved and the current debate could kill it.

Steel buyers usually build up large inventories before labor negotiations and the result often has been mass layoffs even when there is no strike.

Abel's dilemma, sources say, is trying to balance off the potential losses from a strike against the effects of later layoffs on about 450,000 basic steel workers.

Top steel industry officials, including chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper and U. S. Steel Chairman Roger Blough, have warned against the effect of greater steel imports that would hurt domestic producers.

Investigators said they believed the girl was strangled by a man who was seen taking her to the movie, "The Snake Pit and the Pendulum."

Tension Easing In Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) —
Tension eased on Cyprus today as Greek Cypriot troops withdrew at sunrise from two villages they overran in the most serious outbreak of communal fighting in nearly two years.

The government forces also released to U.N. peacekeeping troops about 250 Turkish Cypriot men who had been rounded up in a house-to-house search Wednesday after eight hours of fighting.

The U.N. troops took control of the villages and prepared to return the men home.

In Ankara, Turkey's Cabinet met through the night, its armed forces were placed on the alert and Turkey's airports were closed to civilian traffic for several hours. But the Greek Cypriot backdown appeared to ease the threat of retaliation from Turkey, 40 miles north of Cyprus, and the Turkish airports reopened.

U.N. sources in Nicosia said
medical teams from the U.N.
peace force found 23 Turkish Cypriot bodies in the two villages 40 miles south of Nicosia, Turkish Kophinou and Greek-Turkish Ayios Theodoros.

Greek Cypriot officers on the scene told newsmen only one of their soldiers was killed.

U.N. headquarters in Nicosia said the total number of casualties had not been established,
but seven wounded Turkish Cypriot civilians had been evacuated to Nicosia.

Turkish President Cevdet Sun-ay broke off a tour of Turkey's eastern provinces to hurry back to Ankara. Gen. Cemal Tural, chief of the Turkish general staff, met twice during the night with the Cabinet. One of the commanders told newsmen the armed forces had been put on the alert and might intervene in Cyprus "if necessary."

Turkish Premier Suleyman Demirel said the Cabinet would inform the Parliament later today about the situation on Cyprus. In answer to newsmen's queries, he did not say the crisis had lessened but noted that Greek Cypriot troops had pulled back.

A diplomat in Ankara said it was believed pressure from the Greek government in Athens played a role in the withdrawal.
Turkish Ambassador Turan Tului conferred for half an hour in Athens today with Greek Foreign Undersecretary Constantine Christopoulos but there was no announcement afterward.

Circuit Court

Prosecuting Attorney Henry
Keeler withdrew state charges of unlawful possession of a narcotic drug and possession thereof which had been filed against Richard Keith Lybarger. The action came Wednesday in Circuit Court
after Judge Frank Hayes sustained, in part, a motion to suppress evidence.

The judge had taken the case
under advisement some time ago and Wednesday ruled that evidence obtained by city law
officials was not admissible.
Evidence obtained by county authorities under a search warrant, however, was ruled admissible.

The complaint was originally filed by Keeler. Lybarger was represented by William F.
Brown.

Joseph M. Yates dismissed his petition for divorce from Norma Jean Yates without prejudice in Circuit Court Wednesday.

Magistrate Court

Douglas Reaves, no address available, charged in a state complaint with forgery, was bound over to Circuit Court by Magistrate Judge Frank Armstrong, following a preliminary hearing on the charge.

Julius Ray Marcum, 1221
East 11th, was fined $100 plus costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail Thursday by Magistrate Judge Frank Armstrong for driving while intoxicated. A charge of disturbance of the peace against Marcum was withdrawn by prosecuting attorney Henry Keeler. The jail sentence was suspended and Marcum was placed on probation.

Accidents

Kenneth Keele, 2301 South
Ingram, fell off a ladder and struck a metal dolly at his place of business Wednesday afternoon.

Keele, owner of Keele Paint & Supply, was taken to Bothwell Hospital in McLaughlin's ambulance where he was treated for chest injuries by Dr. Kirby and admitted for further treatment and observation.

There was an accident at 12:40 a.m. Thursday at Main and State Fair Blvd., according to police. Involved was a car driven by Earl Rainey, LaMonte, who drove the car off
the street and hit a guy wire, several hedges, and a tree.

Rainey was booked by Sedalia Police for driving while intoxicated, and was being held in City Jail Thursday pending
his release to the Highway
Patrol for having no Missouri
Operators License.

Glenn C. Smith, 21,
Whiteman Air Force Base, received minor injuries in a motorcycle accident about one and one half miles east of Dresden on U.S. Highway 50
Wednesday afternoon.

Smith told the Highway
Patrol that he was headed west on the highway when the kickstand on his 1968 Honda fell down causing him to lose control of the motorcycle.
Smith jumped off the cycle
when it started to go into a nearby field. Damage to the motorcycle was slight.

Smith was brought to Bothwell Hospital where he was treated for minor injuries to his right leg.

Trooper Richard Joos of the Missouri State Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

Police Reports

E. P. Boss, 502 East 14th, reported to police that the radio
antenna was broken off his 1962
Comet sometime last night
while it was parked at the above address. The antenna was valued at $5.

H. W. Binkley, 2203 West Fourth, reported to police that vandals wrote obscene words on a side of the house at the above address sometime Tuesday.

Biederman's was converged upon by Sedalia police about 8:31 p.m. Wednesday night when they were given a call from the radio dispatcher "two masked men just entered Biederman's." It was only a matter of seconds before the first cars arrived and "covered" the place.

When officers began to enter the place, employees were in wonderment as to what was happening. Informed they had received a call the place was being help up surprised them as no calls had been sent from there.

At police headquarters it was learned a man who gave the name of "Mr. Layman, Kansas City," had turned the call in.
The "Mr. Layman" couldn't be found and it was noted as a false call.

Bomb Near Center Of Haiphong

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes bombed a boat construction and repair yard close to the center of Haiphong and only 1.7
miles from the international docks today for the first time in the Vietnam war.

A U.S. spokesman said A4
Skyhawks from the carrier Coral Sea struck at noon at the "Haiphong Shipyard No. 2," only one mile west of the geographical center of the city.

Three similar boatyards farther away from the city's center were hit in raids last month.

Left untouched were Haiphong's vital unloading piers and docks where an attack on a Soviet ship might bring Soviet-American relations to a crisis point.

The U.S. spokesman said the boatyard hit today was on a small river called the Tram Bac. The yard previously had been on the Pentagon's list of off-limits targets.

There was no immediate word
on the extent of damage.

Several Deaths In Big Storm

BOSTON (AP) — A violent storm dumped up to 13 inches of snow on parts of New England Wednesday, causing several deaths and a massive traffic jam in the Boston area.

Motorists were stuck in Boston traffic for hours. Many left their offices at 5 p.m.—and at midnight had progressed only a few blocks.

Thousands of cars ran out of gasoline or stalled when their batteries went dead and many motorists abandoned their cars on the street.

Four fatalities were attributed to the storm.

Robert Jones, a Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority bus driver, said students from area colleges, including Harvard, Radcliffe, MIT and Boston University, were pushing cars, directing traffic and bringing coffee, sandwiches and cookies to stranded motorists.

"It was absolutely amazing to me," he said, "especially where they knock kids so much. These kids weren't pro or con anything. They weren't handing out literature."

He said the students apparently "were digging into their own pockets to buy the food and coffee which they handed out."

A Boston City Hospital doctor and a nurse ran through the blinding snow to deliver a baby girl in a car trapped in traffic two blocks away.

Sabeno Rivera was driving his wife, Carmela, 23, to the hospital when they were caught in the snarled traffic. A policeman reported their plight to the hospital and Dr. Beach Conger, nurse Rosemary O'Brien and three helpers with medical supplies and a stretcher ran to the car where the baby was delivered.

Both mother and baby later were reported in good condition.
The abandoned cars blocked city and state sand trucks and hampered efforts of police to untangle the traffic.

In the downtown area, restaurants became jammed beyond capacity, and many ran out of some foods.

Lions Hear Of Braille Foundation

Clyde W. Anderson,
representative of the Christian Record Braille Foundation Inc.,
Lincoln, Neb., was the speaker
at the Sedalia Lions Club,
Wednesday at the Bothwell Hotel.

Anderson told the Lions the function of the foundation and how their representatives work with the blind. "There are many, many blind people who need and are qualified for blind assistance," he pointed out and told of going to Benton County where he interviewed a blind couple and found them receiving blind aid where a pension would give them more money on which to live and said
of learning of two other blind persons in the county.

He told of the Foundation's having the highest possible rating among organizations working in the behalf of the blind. The Foundation has operated since 1899 for only one purpose, namely to be of as much service as possible to all blind and near-blind children, youth, adults and the rapidly increasing number of elderly people.

The Foundation serves the blind through personal visitations with the blind people in their homes, through monthly magazines, five which are in braille, one on tape and one in large type for those near blind. Also through what they term their talking magazine, talking book service and lending of library of brailled and recorded books.

The speaker was introduced by Paul Hausam, program chairman.

Vice-President Don Buller, presided over the meeting.

'Dream' Adventures Spice Up One's Life

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Now and then life wears a mask of tire-some sameness.

Everyday actions become irksome by their repetition. "I'm bored with it all," the soul exclaims inwardly in shallow self-pity.

It helps at such times to put life in perspective by drawing up a list of possible adventures

'Think Big' His Byword

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ted Hartley is going about a film career in the same way he won a post as naval aide at the White House: with positive thinking.

"There was absolutely no logic to my being appointed aide to President Eisenhower in 1957," he recalls. "There were other Navy officers with more seniority and better qualifications. But I was fascinated with the power structure of Washington and I wanted to observe it from the inside, so I put in my application. A couple of weeks later I was told to report to the White House."

Hartley was even less qualified to become an actor; his only previous experience in dramatics had been playing a female role in an Annapolis production. Yet his film career has been progressing, and he has his best role so far in the Cinerama epic, "Ice Station Zebra."

At the age 34, the ruggedly handsome Hartley is thinking of writing his memoirs. Born in Omaha, Neb., and reared in Des Moines, Iowa, he has packed a lot of living into his lifetime.

Among his experiences: Becoming the nation's youngest pilot at 13; forming a fast friendship with Lady Astor during a cruise to England; hobnobbing with the Kennedys and other Washington society; serving as naval aide to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow; breaking his back when his Cougar jet crashed on the carrier Midway off Formosa.

He managed to survive the injury, but it was enough to get him discharged from the Navy. For lack of anything else to do, he bought a travel agency in Corpus Christi, Tex., where he was discharged.

"The business didn't prosper, but at least I got some free trips out of it," said Hartley. He sold his travel agency to become an acquisitions man for Gulf & Western.

Hartley did so well that he was lured away by another acquisition-minded firm and sent to its Nevada headquarters. But the business life paled on him, and he left the $30,000 post for the nebulous career of a writer in Hollywood.

"Then the idea of acting presented itself," he related. "I first became interested when Rita Gam took me to sessions of the Actor's Studio in New York. I was offered a one-day role as a minister in 'Peyton Place,' and I decided to take a flier. I must have done all right, because I stayed 3½ months."

Since then he has appeared in "Walk, Don't Run," "Murderer's Row" and "Barefoot in the Park," and there's no telling where he might go from here.

Gets Sentence

PARIS (AP)—Portuguese bank robber Ignacio da Palma accepted as his due a four-month French jail sentence for possession of a deadly weapon found on him in a hotel room here last August. But he is stoutly resisting—and appealing to French libertarianism—against extradition to face a bank robbery rap back home. He admits he stuck up a bank at Figueras da Foz last May, but claims he was politically motivated—to enrich the treasury of the antigovernment League of Union and Revolution.

For example, now in the shady side of 50, I find that, for one reason or another, I have yet to—

Build a cofferdam or paint a flagpole.

Hold a ladder for a fireman while he rescues a kitten stranded in a tree.

Find a buried treasure.

Prove to my wife's satisfaction that the longest distance between two points is the shortest way home.

Catch a mouse in a trap.

College Promiscuity As Largely a Myth

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
AP Science Writer

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Is sexual promiscuity widespread on college campuses? No, say researchers who made a four-year study of students at Stanford University and the University of California, Berkeley.

"Our investigations do not confirm the popular stereotype of widespread sexual promiscuity," says Dr. Joseph Katz of the Stanford Institute for the Study of Human Problems.

"Sexual intimacy, where it occurs, takes place in the context of a relationship that is serious rather than casual."

Establishing more communicative relations is often uppermost in couples' minds, not physical contact, he maintains.

"There are fairly large numbers of students—roughly a third of the men and a quarter of the women—who seem to date little or not at all even as college seniors," Katz says. "In spite of the very favorable male-female ratio at Stanford, over a fifth of the women students seem to have no dates in an average week in any of the four college years."

Katz and 18 other psychologists and psychiatrists analyzed tests and questionnaires from more than 3,000 members of the class of 1965, followed since their freshman days four years earlier. The researchers also collected material through eight in-depth interviews apiece with a cross section of 250 students from college entrance through graduation.

Findings are incorporated in a 666-page report, recently released, entitled "Growth and Constraint in College Students."

It is one of the most massive such studies ever made. The research was jointly financed by the Danforth Foundation and the U.S. Office of Education. It included personality development, student attitudes toward teachers and courses, relationships with fellow students and parents, occupational choice and college life development of personal values.

The students often don't learn to use their reasoning capacities with development problems they face, he adds, and often make major life decisions, including choice of careers and marriage partners, by default.

The researchers scored society's emphasis on achievement—hard work in high school to get into college, then hard work to get into graduate school, and more hard work to get into a high-pay job.

"The whole structure of higher education is designed to look at external signs of success and, more rarely, to focus on the needs of the individual," the scientists note.

"Our study has not impressed us that the skills of men to further their own happiness are in a particularly advanced state," Katz comments.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Every weekday morning I drive 22 miles to work. I have four female passengers who live in my neighborhood (I am a male). One of the passengers always has her newspaper in her hand when I pick her up. The first thing this girl does is open the paper to your column and read it aloud. Then they all discuss your advice, argue about it and sometimes a heated discussion gets going.

I don't mind the letters about cheap boyfriends or nosey neighbors, but I do get very uncomfortable when you print problems about sex. The letter from the 70-year-old woman who had an affair with the yard man nearly put us in a ditch.

So please, Ann, keep in mind that your column could be a hazard on the highway. Cool it, will you? — NOT KIDDING

Dear Not: Last week I received a letter from a man who asked me to keep my Sunday columns serious because he reads them during church and when he laughs out loud everyone gives him dirty looks.

I will tell you what I told him. When I put a column together I try to select letters that are practical, educational, interesting and a reflection of life as a great many people live it. This means there will be letters about every conceivable aspect of life and of course sex is included. Where folks choose to read the column is up to them.

Dear Ann Landers: I am beside myself with worry. Our neighbors have two sons, 15 and 10 years of age. We have a daughter, and often these neighbors have told us how lucky we are. They always wanted a girl but never had one.

Several months ago they learned of a very attractive 14-year-old girl who needed a home because of a pathetic family situation (alcoholic father and promiscuous mother). They could not adopt her but they arranged to take her in as a foster-child.

Our son who is a pal of the ten-year-old told us last night that this girl and the older boy get together in the bedroom and lock the door every chance they get. The parents go out about four evenings a week and I'm sure they have no idea what is going on.

Should I tell the mother about this or not? I am afraid the girl might get pregnant and then I would blame myself for not speaking up. Please advise me. — NO NAME PLEASE

Dear No Name: That 14-year-old girl and that 15-year-old boy know what causes babies so don't feel it is your responsibility to educate them. Since the parents are obviously blind as bats, let's hope that the 10-year-old brother opens their eyes and soon. As for you, stay out of it.

Dean Ann Landers: I felt sorry for the 14-year-old boy whose voice was changing and whenever he answered the phone the caller would mistake him for his mother and say, "How are you, Doris?"

Our son had the same trouble and he finally hit on the solution himself. Instead of saying "Hello" he said, "Hello, this is Robby talking."

Private Enterprise Aware of Social Ills

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson may have his well-publicized arguments with business about the soundness of his fiscal policies, but it appears now that perhaps he has made some impression in another area of the corporate mind.

This area involves the corporate social conscience, which the administration believes can be put to work toward solving some of the problems of unemployment, bad housing, pollution and the blight of the slums.

Evidence that the business community also is interested in participating with government to handle these problems is becoming more obvious every day in the casual remarks and formal speeches of corporate executives.

"Just give us a chance to make a profit and we'll tackle these problems," many businessmen now are saying. And government is assuring them that this is exactly what it hopes to do.

In fact, some corporations already have begun their own "Great Society" programs to help improve their communities. Should the administration get any credit for this? And if so, how much?

Since so much of what is being said and done is so much in line with what seems to be administration policy, it must be assumed that the administration, as well as needs of society and the goodness of business, is at least partly a motivating force.

Two years ago much of industry not only disliked the idea of joining with government to fulfill social needs but actually feared the administration.

Those were the days of price rollbacks, when big government was believed to present a threat to free enterprise. The fear and indignation was expressed this way in a speech by George Champion, chairman of Chase Manhattan Bank:

"In the name of consensus, we find government telling labor and management what wages are acceptable, telling aluminum producers what prices are justified and telling banks what rates are permissible."

Cooperation with government on government terms was less than the ideal of business.

Said John Harper, president of Aluminum Co. of America: "There must also exist between the partners a feeling of trust, of mutual respect, of cooperation on both sides, of the feeling that both sides want to make the agreement work." There are now indications that the administration took its cue and that business, understanding this, is now in a more cooperative mood.

Down the Home Stretch

Sedalia ought to raise $95,363.00 for the 14 participating agencies of the United Fund.

That's the opinion of those who are knowledgeable about the budget and allocation of funds each year although the established goal never is near enough to satisfy the requests for financial help.

The 1967 goal therefore was set $7,406 higher than that for the previous year. This doesn't seem to be too much of an increase.

The Sedalia campaign is progressing but not fast enough if we can judge by what other communities are doing this year. Cape Girardeau went over the top almost a month ago. It's goal was $95,400 almost the same as Sedalia's. This week Jefferson City passed its goal of $133,065. Of course Kansas City hit the gong.

Hannibal is attempting to raise only $73,297.30 this year and the final results, like Sedalia's, are elusive.

Encouraging news locally has been contributions from various industries and employees going over the $1,000 mark and rating illustration in the Democrat-Capital. This promotion has added a little more spirit to the campaigners some of whom have been lagging behind with solicitations and reports to UF headquarters.

But the turtle pace is not new to Sedalia. The calls, and call-backs, and call-backs by solicitors are as discouraging this year as in the past. Time also is of considerable importance to these people and it is a wonder they persist year after year volunteering to participate in the challenge to raise money for the purposes the United Fund was established years ago. But they do hit the pavement again and again.

A plea is made to those who have not yet contributed to do so at once. If a solicitor has not made contact, a person or group may communicate directly with United Fund headquarters, 210 East 4th Street, phone TA 6-2980.

Such voluntary cooperation will speed up the campaign which ought to be concluded not later than the end of this month.

Those solicitors who have delayed turning in their reports are also urged to get with it so Sedalia can report a satisfactory culmination of the campaign, either close to or over the top. The latter would be something of a miracle considering past performances. GHS

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Whittler of Foreign Aid Excited

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Rep. Otto Passman of Monroe, La., is a dapper, likeable congressman who keeps 12 suits hanging in the closet of his congressional office, has more watches than any other member of Congress, and likes to spend April in Paris supposedly checking on our foreign aid spending, even though haughty President De Gaulle long ago banned American aid from France.

Rep. Passman keeps two Cadillacs in his garage, has brought back a brilliant assortment of jewelry from his junkets to Hong Kong at taxpayers' expense and prides himself on being the No. 1 whittler-down of foreign aid.

It was against this background that a hot argument took place behind the closed doors of the House Foreign Aid Appropriations subcommittee the other day. The public is entitled to know what happened. On one side was the whittling congressman from Louisiana; on the other, Chairman George Mahon of Texas—both Democrats.

Otto wanted to uphold his record as the No. 1 whittler. Mahon knew that the price of coffee had fallen in Brazil, the price of bananas had dropped in Ecuador, the price of tin had caved in in Bolivia, the price of copper had plummeted in Peru and Chile. He also knew that the West African countries which had kicked out pro-communist dictators were struggling with drastic price drops on these same commodities.

Finally, Mahon knew that pro-Chinese communists were attempting to stir up revolt in all of these countries; that Che Guevara, the Cuban revolutionist, had only recently been killed in Bolivia; and that some kind of financial aid was badly needed from the United States. Chairman Mahon therefore opposed the $2.2 billion foreign aid fund which the subcommittee was considering.

This amount was about $1 billion less than President Johnson had requested. However, Otto Passman had personally chopped down the money for the Peace Corps, for refugees, for the Inter-American Development Bank, and for individual foreign nations.

Despite the fact that Passman, as chairman of the appropriations subcommittee, had actually and personally done the chopping, he pretended he hadn't.

"I know nothing about this bill," he declared excitedly behind closed doors. "The chairman (Mahon, of the Full Appropriations Committee) knows nothing about it. Nobody knows anything about it. It was handed down to us by the administration. I take no responsibility for it."

—Otto Gulps—

"What do you mean?" snapped Mahon. "You have to handle the bill on the floor. Are you for it or against it? Take a stand."

"All I want to say is that it's the best of a bad bargain," shot back Passman. "We have cut here and there, but it's still a colossal giveaway."

The House and Senate have already passed a $1.7 billion authorization bill, the lowest in history. But Otto was fighting a one-man battle to cut half a billion more from the appropriation bill below the figure authorized by both Houses of Congress.

As Passman began to harangue against various parts of his own appropriation bill, his voice rose to a high, emotional pitch, and at times committee colleagues could hardly understand what he was saying. Finally, Mahon broke in angrily:

"Listen, if you know nothing about the bill, as you say, and feel it is such a bad measure, maybe you should resign as chairman of the subcommittee. Nobody asked you to be the subcommittee chairman."

This thrust quieted Passman down a little. He gulped once or twice, then replied stiffly: "The chairman took me too seriously. I have no intention of resigning as chairman of the subcommittee."

There was another flareup when Rep. Thomas Morris, D-N.M., commented: "After listening to you, too, I'm more confused than ever. I think I'll vote against the bill on the floor."

Rep. George Andrews, D-Ala., also confessed that Passman left him confused. Rep. Elford Cederberg, R-Mich., finally demanded: "Otto, are you yourself going to vote for or against the bill on the House floor?"

"In answer to your question," replied the excited Passman, "I might say that I've never voted for a foreign aid authorization (a preliminary measure reported by the House Foreign Affairs Committee), but, yes, I intend to vote for this appropriation, bad as it is."

"Well, you ought to know," snapped Mahon. "You drafted it."

When and if pro-communist revolutions break out in Latin America and Africa, Otto Passman will undoubtedly disclaim any responsibility whatsoever.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Instant Insects.—The Royal Society in Britain has been delving into the extreme and weird conditions in which animal life will persistently, stubbornly exist on earth. When it is noted how the life spark survives in the most hostile environments, it's not difficult to assume that some forms of life may thrive on strange and forbidding planets within and beyond the solar system.

For instance, British savants have found bacteria surviving though exposed to withering radiation in ponds where the run-down fuel elements of nuclear reactors are cooled.

Then there are what have been termed the "instant insects"; you just add water. These are midge larvae, a quarter of an inch long, which inhabit shallow rock pools in Africa. The pools dry up, the larvae dry out, and sun beats down and they virtually roast. But when it rains they revive and wriggle. A Bristol zoology professor immersed some in near-absolute-zero liquid helium, kept others dried out for from four to ten years. When water was added they too revived, became midges.

Which suggests that it would not be so fantastic to discover primitive forms of life in the cloud areas of torrid Venus, or on some distant sphere where the only breathable atmosphere is ammonia gas!

CHICAGO TRIBUNE: Paint Removing.—Northwestern university has incurred an unwelcome and unexpected expense of about $5,000 — the cost of removing "peace" slogans and symbols sprayed on university buildings. The disfigurement coincided with the Washington demonstration against the war in Viet Nam.

The university should make every effort to discover who was responsible for this vandalism. If the painting was done by students, their suspension or expulsion should be seriously considered, with decision depending perhaps on their willingness to remove their own paint and make restitution for damage done. There are laws providing penalties for vandalism which could be invoked against either students or nonstudents. A failure to prosecute merely invites repetition of such offenses.

Persuasion should supplement pressure. Anyone who considers painting slogans on others' property should stop himself before he begins. Vandalism is not only wrong and illegal, but also an ineffective way to influence public opinion. Recourse to vandalism discredits the cause for which it presumably is used. If the people who painted "End the War" on Northwestern university buildings want to win others to their cause, they should learn that the paint spray can is not an acceptable instrument in argument. That is true for all sides of any issue.

Everyone Else Out of Step, Student Militants Imply

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)

With militant students storming into college presidents' offices, immobilizing military and industrial recruiters and shouting down visiting speakers they dislike, it might seem they are exercising a certain amount of power.

Force, not power, is the proper word. Obstruction, even if it does not involve physical contact, is a kind of force. Unauthorized invasion of space—office, corridor or whatever—is the same.

While they deceive themselves that this is not so, the young militants talk excitedly about gaining "student power."

They obviously have sufficient numbers in many places to make themselves heard and felt. What is it they want power for?

On the broad scene, militants want to stop the war in Vietnam. Their favored method—a complete withdrawal of U.S. armed forces.

Many have pursued this goal for two years or more. They have made no headway at all. Votes like San Francisco's 2 to 1 balloting against withdrawal offer them little encouragement.

They do not, in fact, have the "power" to do anything about it. As this has been increasingly borne in upon them, the student militants (not to mention sizable numbers of sympathizing adults) have become frustrated, angry, gripped by a sense of impotence.

Thus thwarted, they have turned, with surprising speed, to techniques of opposition which grade from shout-down dissent to outright violence. Confrontation and resistance are the new words in their lexicon.

The young militants are on record with countless utterances indicating the only "debate" they care about is argument which they win. Again and again, they have emerged disgustedly from discussions with a defender of U.S. policy and said:

"We didn't get through to him."

The arrogant core of this comment is the automatic assumption that proper communication with the man would have brought his total capitulation to their viewpoint.

This attitude, expressed less and less now in discussion and more and more in obstructionist tactic, is a kind of junior totalitarianism which makes some of its more aggressive practitioners resemble frighteningly Hitler's young bully boys of 30 years ago.

The student militants spend so much of their time in the role of angry rebels against American policy that it is perhaps a bit surprising that they still find moments to contend they should have "power" within the university apparatus itself.

These claims are not exactly unrelated to their broader endeavors. They seem to want a bigger voice in university affairs to a large extent so they can use the schools as base and sanctuary for their assaults on the war and the government "establishment."

Consumed by emotional furies, the militant college minority appears to be demanding freedom to attack anything it chooses while insisting on immunity from any requirement of self-control, reasonable standard, fair play.

The observer can only wonder, too, where—in their brief years on earth—they acquired the expertise that qualifies them either to run or have a large hand in university affairs whose management is often supremely technical, complex and subtle.

Proudly they style themselves "impatient." But impatience is a destroyer of freedom if it sanctions using any means to an end.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Pyloric Obstruction Possibly Nervous Spasm

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I have a small pylorus gland and can eat only a small amount of food at a time. If I overeat, I vomit. My doctor says I should eat five or six small meals a day. I am a working girl and can't eat that often. I am losing weight. What would you advise?

A—The pylorus is not a gland. Rather, it is the outlet of the stomach which consists of a thick muscular layer to regulate the passage of food into the duodenum. There are many causes of pyloric obstruction. Nervous spasm of various types of scar tissue due to a peptic ulcer or an operation in that region are the commonest causes.

If a high-calory liquid diet, which you could take to work in a vacuum bottle and dole out in small portions, and antispasmodic drugs don't help out, an operation may be necessary.

Q—I have had alcoholic gastritis, but have not taken a drink in over a year. I feel fine now and wonder whether a few drinks would bring the gastritis back.

A—Although an occasional weak alcoholic drink might not cause a recurrence of your gastritis, there is great danger that one such drink would lead to another. The safest course for anyone who has had alcoholic gastritis is to abstain from all alcoholic beverages and continue to feel fine.

Q—in a recent column you stated that smog reduces the oxygen-carrying capacity of the blood. How does it do this? How can this decreased capacity be determined?

A—Carbon monoxide and other pollutants in the air form a more stable compound with the oxygen-carrying hemoglobin of your blood than does oxygen. If your hemoglobin is tied up with these compounds it cannot carry its full quota of oxygen. There are chemical tests for the oxygen-carrying capacity of the blood that can be performed in a clinical laboratory.

Marshall Miles has written a new book called "Marshall Miles Teaches Logical Bridge." In this book he teaches a very intelligent couple how to play good bridge. They start by knowing nothing about the game but they learn fast. Here is how he teaches one of the most important defensive signals.

He says, "West opens the queen of spades. South wins with the king and leads the ten of diamonds. How must East defend?"

The answer is, "He has to win the second diamond. Otherwise South can win two spades, one heart, two diamonds and four clubs."

He asks, "Doesn't East take a chance if he wins the second diamond? Suppose South has the last missing diamond?"

"I suppose there is some way for West to show that he started with three diamonds. Is there?"

"Yes," says Marshall. "There is a general defensive convention that a defender should show an odd or even number of cards in a suit by playing high-low (echoing) with an even number and low-high with an odd number. He doesn't do this all the time but only when it is more important to inform his partner than his opponent."

"I see," replies the student. "West plays the deuce of diamonds first and when he follows to the second diamond, East knows that West started with three diamonds. If West started with two diamonds he would play high-low, and East would duck the second diamond as well as the first."

Note that if South had held one less spade and one more diamond, the defense would be helpless anyway because South could take the two diamonds and go after clubs; but if South held three diamonds and only four clubs the double duck would beat him.

Johnson Armor Shows No Dents

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The anti-Vietnam war critics and demonstrators annoy President Johnson but they don't put a dent in him.

Their hopes for peace face a bleak future at least until the 1968 elections, unless somehow the war ends before then. Nothing of the kind is in sight.

Recent and not so recent statements by Johnson and top men around him in fighting this war show grim determination to keep on fighting it.

For instance, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, looking beyond Vietnam, said months ago this country would be involved in Asia until the end of the century.

Last May in Look magazine he said the American interest "in the Far Pacific is precisely what our interest was in the late '40's and '50's in Europe."

In the same issue of the magazine Secretary of State Dean Rusk predicted it will be "useful for some time to come for American power to be able to control every wave of the Pacific, if necessary."

And this week Johnson showed his unbending determination to go on with the war.

The Machinist, a labor magazine, quoted him as saying: "I may wind up with a poll of one per cent before it's over with."

Recent public opinion polls showed his popularity, and public confidence in him at a new low.

He said, "We can't end it (the war) with honor by surrender. We can't end it with honor by negotiations because the enemy will not negotiate with us." Until there are negotiations, he said, "It is going to be tough but we are just going to have to stand up and take it."

At a White House dinner Tuesday night, Johnson illustrated his will to go on by quoting from President Abraham Lincoln in the depths of the Civil War: "Let us ... dare to do our duty as we understand it."

Nor is there any softening in the administration's position about continuing the bombing of North Vietnam.

In the past year Johnson and Rusk have said repeatedly that despite previous pauses in the air raids the United States cannot now "stop half the war."

Their condition for halting the bombing is, and has been, some reciprocal action by North Vietnam to scale down its own military operations.

This week Johnson is meeting with U.S. military and political chiefs stationed in Vietnam. They have advised against any extension of the bombing pause which this country may permit for the upcoming Vietnamese holidays of Christmas and New Year.

One of them, Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to Vietnam, gave Johnson a rather optimistic report on progress there but warned the road ahead is tough and long.

And Wednesday, when he arrived here by plane from Saigon, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. military commander in Vietnam, talked of progress in the war as "very encouraging ... I have never been more encouraged in my four years in Vietnam."

He also opposed any extended bombing pause, which is in keeping with his relentless attitude toward the conflict in Vietnam.

When he was here last April he told Congress the only strategy that could defeat the enemy was "one of unrelenting but discriminating military action and political and psychological pressure" on the enemy's whole structure at all levels.

While the critics may get under Johnson's skin—there's no doubt they do, since he's banged at them repeatedly—they have had no visible effect on him except to make him feel, judging from what he has said, that if they'd just shut up peace might come faster since obvious American disunity encourages Hanoi to keep the war going.

The Sickly Health Dept.

We all know about Billy Churchill and his sidewalk popsicle stand in Satellite Beach, Fla.

We know that someone complained that 11-year-old Billy was operating without a permit and that the county health department closed him up.

To emphasize the extent of his lawlessness, the health authorities pointed out that Billy didn't even provide separate toilet facilities for his men and lady customers.

Well, the governor of Florida didn't miff this one. He rushed in with cameras clicking and personally put the stand back in business with a ribbon-cutting ceremony, plugs for Florida fair play and free enterprise everywhere, and even a rap at LBJ.

All of which was good, clean refreshment stand fun for everyone except the county health department, which came out looking a little sick.

After all, to be really healthy, you can't be too stuffed up.

Satire Is Lost By 'Special'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Not all of George Bernard Shaw's witty commentaries translate as comfortably into a musical form as "My Fair Lady"—not even when the music is written by Richard Rodgers.

NBC's adaptation of "Androcles and the Lion" arrived Wednesday night having lost somewhere along the way the bite and sly satire of the Irish playwright. The score, alas, was one of Rodgers' minor efforts.

What came through in the 90 minutes was the familiar tale of a small timid tailor of ancient Rome, one of the Christians, whose love of animals gave him courage to pull a thorn from the paw of a lion.

Captured by Roman soldiers, Androcles is placed in the arena with other Christians to be fed to the lions for the sport of Caesar and the populace. Of course, the lion turns out to be his old friend and his life is spared.

Norman Wisdom played Androcles in broad comedy style, even occasionally dropping into cockney baby-talk when speaking to his lion. Ed Ames had a song or two in his part of the giant who worried about his conscience. Inga Swenson appeared as a Christian girl who attracted a Roman captain—just enough for a couple of songs with him.

Noel Coward as Caesar appeared at the end of the show and had one amusing number, "The Emperor's Thumb," which he delivered with considerable style.

But at no point did there seem to be a comfortable fit of story and music. Ancient Rome and the ordeals of early Christians combined with musical comedy like oil and water. Perhaps Rodgers best number was a sort of hymn, "Follow in Our Footsteps," but, in the name of humor, even this one had the name changed at one point to "Feed Them to the Lions."

The show was a disappointment.

Later on ABC, there was a slick attention holding adaptation of "Dial M for Murder." It is a dandy suspense story to start with and was done in good British whodunit style.

NBC will drop "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." now in its fourth season, after the Jan. 22 show. The replacement will be a variety series starring the comedy team of Rowan and Martin. The canceled show's ratings have been very low this season and its departure was expected.

NBC also confirmed officially that "Maya" will be replaced by "The Saint," in early March. The British action series did well as a summer replacement. "Accidental Family," the first series to go—on Jan. 12—will be replaced by an evening edition of the morning game show, "Hollywood Squares."

ABC has announced the postponement of its Debbie Reynolds special, scheduled for next Sunday. Like Carol Channing's show, it was taped after the strike of union technicians against the network and under an agreement not to broadcast if the strike were still on. It will be replaced by a repeat of a cartoon show, "Alice in Wonderland, or What's a Nice Kid Like You Doing in a Place Like This."

FBI Force Creates Argument

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI and its parent agency, the Justice Department, are at odds over the department's new "strike force" concept for fighting organized crime.

As a result, the FBI has refused to join fully the new anti-crime force—practically the only civilian federal investigative agency to decline full participation.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark made public the new concept earlier this week in a New York speech when he announced the department will set up several "strike forces" to probe organized crime in selected areas.

The decision was based on a highly successful operation during the past year in Buffalo, N.Y., which resulted in 14 indictments affecting 31 defendants.

Under the strike force concept, seven federal investigative agencies work together on an intensive drive against organized crime in a selected area for a year or two.

Although Justice Department officials refused to discuss the disagreement, it is known they feel their job would be much easier if the FBI participated fully in the new technique.

FBI participation so far has been passive. It has not assigned agents to work on the strike forces but has made available its vast intelligence sources.

Technically, at least, the attorney general could order FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to assign agents to the strike force, but Clark is said to be reluctant to do so. Although the FBI is part of the Justice Department it operates practically as an autonomous agency.

Insiders familiar with FBI operations say the bureau's opposition to participating fully in the plan is based on three premises:

—The FBI traditionally likes to work alone and take the credit—or the blame—alone.

—The FBI over the years has sought to keep separate the investigating and prosecuting functions of the Justice Department. The bureau does the investigating; the department does the prosecuting.

—The bureau is not convinced that the intensive work of the strike forces—spread possibly over an 18-month or two-year period—would be lasting. It feels that once a drive is completed the target area may slip back under control of the local crime syndicate branch. Department officials are known to feel, however, that the key to a successful fight against organized crime is continual surveillance.

Adds Drama To 1968 Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's hint that he might alter his announced support of President Johnson in 1968 adds new drama to the potential opposition candidacy of Minnesota Democratic Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Kennedy said Wednesday that McCarthy is likely to generate some important backing if he enters presidential primaries as an outspoken opponent to Johnson's Vietnam war policies.

Asked how a McCarthy candidacy would affect his previously announced decision to support President Johnson's expected bid for re-election despite his criticism of some of the President's Vietnam policies, the New York senator said:

"I perhaps will have something to say further if Sen. McCarthy announces."

Kennedy also said if he were Johnson he'd consider McCarthy's possible candidacy "very serious," and added: "I think he'll (McCarthy) receive some support around the country. I think from the people I've talked to, in California, New England, the Midwest, he'll have some support."

Kennedy was interviewed on the CBS Evening News.

McCarthy has said he was considering getting in to the race for the Democratic nomination because he felt Kennedy's announced intention of supporting Johnson left a vacuum in which voters had no direct way of expressing their opposition to Vietnam policies.

McCarthy wasn't immediately available for comment on Kennedy's statements. But in an earlier interview Wednesday the Minnesotan said any bid he makes for the Democratic nomination would aim at giving voters a chance to exert the kind of pressure he thinks might cause Johnson to change his course in Vietnam.

"Vietnam is an important issue and it can't be pushed aside," he said. "It is the kind of issue that should be presented squarely to the people under the established procedures of American politics."

"It has got to be presented with personal identification. It can't be dealt with as an abstract issue. If it is identified with a personality in the primaries the people can make their judgment."

McCarthy said personal political ambitions don't enter into the matter. Some Democratic colleagues suspect he is counting on antiwar sentiment to produce a respectable showing for him which—linked with national publicity—would make him a factor in the fight for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

McCarthy said he hasn't even thought about 1972.

The Minnesota senator dismissed as furthest from his mind reports that he hopes by his venture to offer a future party leadership challenge to Kennedy.

But he does not deny the obvious—that Kennedy's resistance to being shoved into opposing Johnson next year contributed to his own nearing decision to take the plunge himself.

McCarthy says frankly that he would hope to revive the Adlai E. Stevenson liberal strain in the party and give the John F. Kennedy people somebody to rally around next year in view of Robert Kennedy's absence from the fray.

When he persisted in putting Stevenson's name before the 1960 Democratic convention, McCarthy won the plaudits of the party liberals. But the price he paid was a subsequent frosty, arms-length relationship with the Kennedys.

He conceivably could find one of the clan, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., standing in for the President in the Massachusetts primary. This is one of four tests McCarthy may undertake, with the others in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and California.

Meanwhile some party dissidents, organizing as a group called Concerned Democrats, said McCarthy would be the featured speaker at a national meeting Dec. 2-3 in Chicago.

Allard K. Lowenstein, the conference organizer, said the group's purpose is "to replace President Johnson with a candidate who will reverse his actions in Vietnam and their consequences at home and abroad."

Gestapo Suspect Is Held

PANAMA (AP) — Panamanian and West German police are investigating a graying, shabby peddler arrested on suspicion that he is Heinrich Mueller, Hitler's last Gestapo chief and Adolf Eichmann's boss.

The mystery man claimed he was a 61-year-old U.S. citizen, Francis Willard Keith, born in Webb City, Mo., but Panamanian authorities said his German-accented English was barely intelligible.

His fingerprints were flown to West Berlin for comparison with those of Mueller, who was reported alive in Hitler's bunker just before the fall of the Nazis in 1945.

The chief of Panama's Department of Investigations, Hector Valdes, said there was a strong resemblance between the man arrested Tuesday and photographs of Mueller but his department had failed to connect the two.

"I don't believe he is the man," Valdes told a reporter.

West Germany's Justice Ministry said the suspect was identified as Mueller by a Belgian informant who also said a Belgian graphologist had confirmed the suspect's handwriting was that of the former lieutenant general in Heinrich Himmler's SS Elite Guard.

Newsman who viewed the suspect at a news conference Wednesday night saw a man apparently in his 60s with several days growth of stubble. He sat silent in the glare of television lights, wearing a light gray coat and faded brown trousers. When a reporter handed him a microphone, he gave it to Valdes who did not permit questions.

Mueller was believed dead by many Germans, but last week the West German Central Office for Nazi Crimes said it had uncovered a new "hot trail" to him. It came from Simon Wiesenthal, the Viennese Nazi hunter who directed Israeli agents to Eichmann in Argentina.

Valdes said he personally arrested the man in a Panama City restaurant and described him as a peddler of ties, honey and liquor who had lived in Panama for eight or ten years. Valdes called him "half crazy."

In London, Dr. Gerhart Riegner, secretary-general of the World Jewish Congress, said Mueller was a leading participant in the 1942 Wannsee conference which planned the annihilation of Europe's Jews.

Injuries Don't Keep Davis From His Work

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG, Associated Press Sports Writer
MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Cornelius Davis is a quiet, extremely proud young man from St. Louis who plays when he's hurt. He's also a great tailback on a losing team, already the top career rusher in Kansas State history and likely will rank fourth on the all-time Big Eight list.

Despite a persistent shoulder injury, Davis still has a shot at his second straight Big Eight rushing crown. He is fifth with 520 yards, but this is only 49 yards from the leader, Ron Shotts of Oklahoma.

"I wouldn't trade him for any running back in the country," said Vince Gibson, K-State coach. Davis is a 6-foot-3, 202-pounder with a rare combination of elusiveness, speed and power. He is deadly both inside and outside. He was an outstanding hurdler at Beaumont High in St. Louis and ran the quarter mile in 49.7 seconds.

At his current pace, Davis could finish this season with 650 yards to go with his 1,028 last year. Another 650 next year would give him 2,328 for his career, putting him No. 4 on the all-time career list in the Big Eight behind Gale Sayers of Kansas with 2,675; Dave Hoppmann of Iowa State with 2,562; and Jim Grisham of Oklahoma with 2,404.

He would need 998 next year to surpass Sayers—at least a possibility.

"I like to carry the ball, but I'm really not interested in statistics," Davis said. "It's the team that counts."

Davis never complains of an injury. He played almost a full quarter with a broken nose in the Kansas game before anyone realized it. He's had a shoulder problem ever since spring training, but it doesn't hamper his running.

Opposing defenses have been concentrating on Davis ever since his first college game last year when he ran for 161 yards, including an 89-yard touchdown, against Army at West Point.

Jump Shot Satisfied Americans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It wasn't as long as Jerry Harkness' record 92-foot heave Monday night, but the New Jersey Americans found Mel Nowell's 30-foot jump shot every bit as satisfying.

Nowell's jumper, which counted for three points, came with six seconds left and gave the Americans a 109-108 tie in regulation time with the New Orleans Buccaneers in their American Basketball Association game at Teaneck, N.J., Wednesday night. The Americans went on to whip the Western Division leaders 123-114 in overtime.

Harkness' record shot came as the final buzzer sounded in Dallas and gave the Indiana Pacers a one-point victory over the Chaparrals. The Pacers, the Eastern Division leaders, made it two straight by whipping the Oakland Oaks Wednesday at Indianapolis 119-110.

Dallas, playing at home, lost to the Anaheim Amigos 116-105 in the other ABA game scheduled Wednesday.

Nowell's heave climaxed a last quarter rally by the Americans in which they erased a 14-point deficit. A layup by John Austin and two free throws by Tony Jackson broke a 112-112 tie in the extra period and put the Americans ahead for good.

Lavern Tart, unable to play at Pittsburgh Tuesday because of a Pennsylvania common pleas court injunction, was back in action for Oakland Wednesday, but his 25 points wasn't enough to pull the Oaks through against Indiana.

A last-quarter rally, led by Les Selvaige, gave Anaheim its victory over Dallas. Selvaige, the league leader in three-point goals, hit three of them in the winning rally and finished high for the Amigos with 24 points. John Beasley topped Dallas with 26.

In the National Basketball Association, San Diego beat New York 122-108, Boston edged San Francisco 113-110, Detroit surprised Philadelphia 123-120 and Los Angeles downed Chicago 124-115.

In 18 games for K-State, Davis has 1,548 of his team's 1,706 net rushing yardage and 12 of its 18 touchdowns. His average per play has dropped from 4.9 to 3.0 this fall, as he is running fewer power plays and more draws under the pro-type attack, against a tougher schedule.

But he's still carrying the ball 21 times a game and opposing coaches still fear him. This makes the passing game go.

Before Davis came along, the K-State career rushing record was 1,211 by Corky Taylor in 1952-53-54, for the modern era since 1937, when the NCAA started keeping individual records. You have to go back to Ralph Graham, great K-State fullback of 1931-32-33 under Bo McMillin, to find a Wildcat runner comparable to Davis.

Roger Wehrli of Missouri is causing Nebraska to worry. Wehrli has returned 20 punts for 263 yards and one touchdown this season. The Cornhuskers Wednesday gave special attention to punt and kick-off coverage.

Pass catchers Tom Penney and Dennis Morrison missed the Nebraska practice because of injuries. Coach Bob Devaney said both must be rated as "doubtful" for Saturday.

Missouri defensive tackle Curtis Jones is definitely out of the Nebraska game, also. Jones, suffered a knee injury against Kansas State last week.

Urge Hunters To Practice Safety Rules

From November 18 to November 22 hunters will be allowed to use firearms in their quest for deer in Missouri. With this in mind, deer hunters were reminded today by the Missouri State Highway Patrol of two State statutes that deal with hunting and shooting.

Section 560.570 of the Missouri Revised Statutes prohibits a person to hunt on the property of another without the consent of the owner or person in charge of the property. Section 564.520 prohibits a person to shoot along or across a public highway.

"These two sections of the law were designed to protect the individual landowner's property and to insure the safety of the general public," noted Colonel E. I. (Mike) Hockaday, Superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol. "I urge the many hunters who will be out during these designated deer hunting days to respect the rights of property owners and to refrain from endangering the safety of others."

Last Two Tackles Important

By IRA MILLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Linebacker Dennis Onkotz has made 102 tackles for Penn State this season but the first 100 meant little compared to the last two.

They were the ones which first preserved and then completed Penn State's 13-8 victory over previously undefeated North Carolina State last Saturday—a victory achieved largely because earlier in the game Onkotz returned an intercepted pass 67 yards for a touchdown.

Onkotz made 22 tackles in that game—12 of them unassisted—and also helped the Nittany Lions recover a Wolfpack fumble, achievements which earned him The Associated Press' nod as college football Lineman of the Week.

A sophomore—like five of Penn State's other defensive regulars—Onkotz has been making big plays all year and when North Carolina State, trailing 13-6, lined up for a fourth down play at the Penn State one-yard line with 33 seconds to go, he knew just what to do.

"They had run the play before and they liked to dive over the pile," Onkotz said. "We were ready for it and I anticipated where he'd go."

when he slipped in the shower room earlier this week, returned to the Iowa State squad Wednesday. He will be able to play Saturday against Oklahoma State.

At Stillwater, Okla., Cowboy Coach Phil Cutchin said his team was not as sharp in practice Wednesday as he hopes they will be Saturday. "But then," the Oklahoma State mentor said, "Saturday is the day we want to be sharp."

Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks says Kansas uses more offensive formations than any football team the Sooners have faced this season. Consequently, the Sooners worked Wednesday on the things Kansas does best on offense.

Kansas heard from scout Floyd Temple, who said Oklahoma has "an explosive offense and they are just as tough on defense. There has only been one touchdown scored against the first team," Temple warned.

Ycaza Has Tough Ride Ahead Now

By RALPH BERNSTEIN, Associated Press Sports Writer

CERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)—How much does a jockey mean to a horse? Maybe the rich Garden State Stakes Saturday will prove something in this vein when TV Commercial and Manny Ycaza team in a bid for a possible $195,321 first money.

Everett Clay, who has been a press agent for jockeys and horses the last 23 years, described the combination as fitting, "one a rebel, the other named in rebellion."

Clay meant the description as complimentary, noting that Ycaza has been set down for rough riding more than any jockey in modern racing. He described the jockey as a product of a rigidly disciplined early childhood and his racing tactics rebellion against such rule and authority.

As for the colt being named in rebellion, owner Millard Waldheim took out his feeling about certain television commercials, especially those on bad breath. "I get awfully annoyed at them," says the owner of the Bamazon Farm. "I decided to name a horse in protest."

Since T.V. Commercial's sire was T.V. Lark, the name was almost a natural for the colt.

What brings up the value of a rider to a horse is the fact that Ycaza rode T.V. Commercial in the Breeders Futurity at Keeneland Oct. 21, and won by 1½ lengths over Family Fun, one of the probable starters at Garden State Park Saturday.

A few weeks later, T.V. Commercial ran in the Pimlico Futurity and was beaten three lengths by Vitriolic, pretender to the 2-year-old championship. Ycaza was not aboard, sitting out one of those suspensions he is so prone to picking up.

Trainer Tony Basile and Waldheim feel that with Ycaza in the saddle for the Garden State, T.V. Commercial will score handsily and stake a claim to the juvenile title.

Vitriolic is sidelined with an injury, but most of the other standout colts in training will shoot for the big money in the Garden State, which with 14 expected starters will gross $325,535. Second money of $65,107, and third place dough of $32,553 aren't exactly chicken feed.

Other probable starters and their riders in the 1 1-16 mile race around two turns for 2-year-olds are Subpet, Ray Broussard; Irish Chief, Bobby Usery; Bugged, Eddie Belmonte; Family Fun, Howard Grant; Broad Shadows, Walter Blum; Strate Stuff, Bill Fleming; Skoom, Ismael Valenzuela; Francie's Hat, Hedley Woodhouse; Wellpoised, Jorge Valesquez; Fairway Prince, Lester Pigot; Draft Card, Johnny Rotz, and Pappa Steve, Bill Boland. A rider for Iron Ruler has yet to be named since Laffit Pincay, who was to have been aboard, is serving a suspension.

Hall Is Just Another Target

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I'm just glad," Glenn Hall once said, commenting on Bobby Hull's powerful shots, "that I only have to face them in practice."

But that was before the National Hockey League expanded. Now goalie Hall, a longtime Chicago teammate of Hull's, is just another target for the Golden Jet.

Hull fired his 15th goal of the season Wednesday night helping the Hawks beat St. Louis and Hall for the second time this week, 4-1.

Elsewhere in the NHL Wednesday, Mike Walton's three-goal hat trick powered Toronto to a 4-2 victory over Boston and moved the Maple Leafs into undisputed possession of first place in the East Division. Pittsburgh blanked Philadelphia 5-0, Montreal dropped Minnesota 5-1 and Oakland

Yankees Still Top Attraction

BOSTON (AP)—Win or lose, the New York Yankees still are the top drawing card on the road in the American League.

Despite a ninth-place finish this season, the Yankees drew 1,364,783 fans away from home, helping the league to a record attendance of 11,336,923.

A league spokesman said Wednesday that according to records available the Yankees topped the circuit in road attendance for the 18th straight year.

Six other clubs topped the one million mark, also setting a league mark for the most teams surpassing that mark in road attendance.

Minnesota drew 1,325,806 to rank No. 2. The Chicago White Sox were a better drawing card away from home, attracting 1,277,404 fans on the road compared with just 985,364 at home.

The Boston Red Sox showed the biggest gain in road attendance as they leaped from a ninth-place finish in 1966 to the pennant. The Red Sox drew 1,171,688 fans on the road, 383,153 more than last year.

Baltimore's 1966 champions attracted 1,145,275 fans on the road, and Detroit 1,139,121. The Washington Senators passed the million mark on the road for the first time, helping to attract 1,077,131.

Other road figures were Cleveland 995,665; California 971,836 and Kansas City 938,214. Boston, Chicago, California, Detroit, Kansas City, Minnesota and Washington all drew more fans away from home than in 1966.

whipped Los Angeles 4-1.

Hall yielded a first-period goal to Stan Mikita and then held off the Hawks until midway through the third period when Hull blazed a 20-footer past him.

Bobby's younger brother, Dennis, and Eric Nesterenko then added wrapup goals for the Hawks.

Walton, playing in place of the injured Dave Keon, scored two goals in the first period, one of them just 36 seconds after leaving the penalty box, and completed his hat trick in the middle session.

The three goals gave the 22-year-old center seven for the season in 15 games matching his total for 31 games with Toronto last year.

Montreal ended a five-game winless streak as Dick Duff and Henri Richard did the heavy work against Minnesota.

Duff had a goal and three assists and Richard scored once and set up two others for the Canadiens. Yvan Cournoyer, who notched his eighth goal, Ralph Backstrom and Ted Harris were Montreal's other scorers. Wayne Connelly hit for the North Stars.

Hank Bassen, playing his first game in 2½ weeks, blanked Philadelphia, ending a four-game Flyer winning streak. Bassen kicked out 27 shots and Billy Dea, Ab McDonald, Bob Dillabough, Keith McCreary and Art Stratton scored Pittsburgh's goals.

Oakland's victory over Los Angeles broke a 15-game winless skid. During the month-long span the Seals had lost 12 games with just three ties.

The Kings took a 1-0 lead early in the first period on a goal by Terry Gray, but after that it was all Oakland. Larry Cahan, George Swarbrick, Charlie Burns and Aut Erickson were the Seals' marksmen.

War May Stop Game For Army

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Sugar Bowl has been quietly informed that "powerful people in high places" don't think Army's football team should play in a postseason game because of the Vietnam war.

This new development changes a fluid situation for the Sugar Bowl once again

Coach With Trouble Before, After Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics had just taken over first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division, but Player-Coach Bill Russell had a problem.

He didn't know where his car was.

Following the Celtics' 113-110 victory over San Francisco in snow-clogged Boston Wednesday night, Russell stood in his club's dressing room and said:

"The first thing I want to do is find my car. I don't know where it is."

But during most of the game, the second of a doubleheader at Boston Garden, Russell knew where his car was. He was in it, and it was in a mammoth traffic snarl caused by the storm.

He finally abandoned it, caught a ride with a policeman and arrived at the Garden with just a few minutes remaining in the game. He didn't bother changing into his uniform.

In Russell's absence, General Manager Red Auerbach, who guided the Celtics to eight straight NBA titles and earned 1,037 victories before turning the coaching job over to the star center last season, stepped into the breach.

Detroit beat Philadelphia 123-120, San Diego topped New York 122-108 in the first game at Boston before only 2,645 fans and Los Angeles turned back Chicago 124-115.

In the American Basketball Association, Anaheim beat Dallas 116-105, New Jersey edged New Orleans 123-114 in overtime, and Indiana downed Oakland 119-110.

Bailey Howell's 27 points led Boston, which boosted its record to 11-2 compared to Philadelphia's 11-3.

Detroit fell behind by 18 points in the second quarter but then, led by the shooting of Dave Bing, roared back to overtake Philadelphia and end a 16-game losing streak against the 76ers.

N. Dakota Has To Sit And Hope

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's a matter of producing for San Diego State, the nation's No. 1 small college football team, while for North Dakota State it's a matter of waiting and hoping.

San Diego State, 8-0 this season and winner of 24 straight, plays home games against Montana State next Saturday and Utah State, Nov. 25.

North Dakota State, ranked second, finished its regular season Nov. 4 with a 9-0 record.

A national panel of sports writers and sportscasters gave San Diego State, 30-21 winner over San Fernando Valley State last Saturday, five first place votes and a total of 116 points this week. North Dakota State received two first place votes and 96 points.

Eastern Kentucky is third with two first place votes and 65 points, followed by New Mexico Highlands with one first place vote and 58 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten are Waynesburg, Texas-Arlington, Northern Michigan, Texas A&I with a first place vote, Southwest Texas State and Morgan State.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1. San Diego St. (5) 116
2. North Dakota St. (2) 96

Vinegar-Water Solution Removes Offensive Odors

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Tell Christine to try washing her day bed cover that smells of kerosene in strong vinegar water. Hang outdoors to let the odors evaporate. My husband cannot stand the fish odor on his hands after he goes fishing, so he always uses vinegar, and I use vinegar in the rinse water to get the fish smell out of blue jeans.—MRS. L. C.

DEAR POLLY—Do tell Christine to set a bowl filled with ammonia under her day bed that smells of kerosene. Our dog ran through some wet weeds and came home with a skunk smell in her long hair. She ran in and jumped on the davenport. The smell was horrible. I washed the cushions as best I could and placed ammonia underneath the davenport, and it helped. Be sure there are no children around to get into the ammonia.—M. H. C.

DEAR POLLY—I was putting up some shelves and did not have a level, so I filled a glass measuring cup half-full of water. I set this on my shelf and could level it perfectly.

I find an easy and economical way to make windows shine is to wash them with a mild solution of dish detergent and water, then dry with newspaper.—MARY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—My 11-year-old sister is a nuisance as she talks very loud and acts silly every time someone comes around. She makes my friends very uncomfortable. When I get on the phone, she yells into the mouthpiece, cuts me off from my party and talk so loud I cannot hear myself think. What can I do about her? She is not ignorant as she makes good grades at school but something is wrong. How can I reform her? —MISS C. R. B.

Where is your mother when these plays for attention are taking place?—POLLY.

Armor in Comeback In War

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American science and technology have come up with some way-out answers to fighting Vietnam's guerrilla war but officers would like them to go still farther.

Items being tested or soon to be tested include lightweight body armor capable of stopping a .30-caliber armor-piercing bullet, a 10-pound electronic navigation computer for infantrymen, and radar beacons to guide jet bombers to the rescue of infantrymen caught in deep jungle ambushes.

Among the notable failures so far are attempts to give GIs greater firepower by doubling the size of their M16 rifle ammunition clips and to build a device that accurately detects hidden artillery positions. Hidden artillery has resulted in several thousand Marine casualties along the demilitarized zone.

Armor for infantrymen has always been a problem in Vietnam. The 12-pound flak vest most commonly worn will stop shrapnel but not bullets. The material of the jacket is of such a close weave that some Marines call them pressure cookers.

The Army version under test has ceramic plates in a loosely woven material that allows body heat to escape. The 10-pound jacket will stop medium machine-gun bullets.

The position locator, as the navigation system for infantrymen is called, still has a few bugs to be ironed out. Carried on an infantryman's back, the set's computer electrically feeds in compass bearings and the number of steps taken by its wearer and feeds out map coordinates of present position.

Theoretically an infantryman can follow a long twisting circular course over hills and rough ground and find less than a few yards' error when he arrives.

The beacon is to be tested by the Marines in conjunction with their all-weather bomber, the A6 Intruder. Special Forces camps, fixed Marine positions and moving units alike could use the radar beeper to guide in A6s for strikes day or night and in any weather. In deep jungle minutes and lives often are lost during ambushes because allied bombers cannot figure out quickly just where the "friendly" are.

Flame-resistant flying clothes, being tested by Army and Marine airmen, promise to save many fliers. An Army pilot testing a suit was shot down in flames recently. The fire melted the nylon straps on his helmet and his seat cushions but gave him what amounted to a bad sunburn over his body, the Army reports.

Also being tested are ballistic helmets for airmen. They "sag" under glancing hits, deflecting bullets from the wearer's head.
